1. Create or sign in to your CalCareer account
2. Take and pass an Examination
3. Search and apply for jobs
4. Track your application online

Step 1: Create or sign in to your CalCareer account

Your Cal Career account lets you manage all your job applications and view your exam results in one place. If you already have an account, enter your User I.D. and Password in the Sign In box on the front page. If you forgot your User I.D. or Password, simply click on the Forgot User I.D./Password link in the Sign In box on the front page. If you do not have a CalCareer account you may create one by clicking on the Create a New Account link in the Sign In box on the front page. You only need one CalCareer account to apply for all jobs at <https://jobs.ca.gov/>.

Step 2: Take and pass an examination

The second step in obtaining a job with the Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR) is to find an examination that you qualify for. To find out if you qualify for an examination, you must read, and ensure that you meet the Minimum Qualifications listed on the examination recruitment bulletin.

To find examination recruitment bulletins for DPR examinations that are currently being offered, visit our open exams page at: <http://www.cdpr.ca.gov/docs/dept/psb/home.htm>

Once you take an examination, you will receive a notice by email or mail of your examination results. If you pass the examination, your notice of examination results will indicate your score.

Step 3: Search and apply for jobs

Once you have established eligibility by passing an examination, you may start to receive job inquiry notices from departments requesting that you submit your application for certain vacant positions. You may also begin applying for job vacancies on your own. Find current vacancy postings at: <https://jobs.ca.gov/>.

To be automatically notified when job vacancies become available for the classification that you are interested in, sign up by clicking the "E-Notify" tab within your CalCareer account page.

Step 4: Track your application online

Once you have submitted or have begun to submit a Job Application you can view it on your My Account page under the Jobs tab. You will receive notice if you are called for an interview.

Note: You do not have to have receive an employment inquiry letter to apply for a Job Posting. If you meet the minimum qualifications for any job opening, have passed an exam and your eligibility is "Active," you can apply for that job.
